Archbishop Glennon Encourages Knights to Greater Efforts.

GREETING FROM BISHOP BYRNE

With the arrival Monday evening of the special from Louisville and Major Gen. Michael Reicher and Gen. Joseph P. McGinn and their escort, the crack uniform rank company, commanded by Capt. Oscar Maler, all Nashville became aware that the Tennessee capital, the birthplace of the order, had been captured by the Catholic Knights of America. Kentucky's delegates, Messrs. Thomas Gleason, of Covington, and Harry Veenema, of Louisville, together with Gen. Reicher and McGinn, were met at the depot by the Nashville reception committee, headed by State President J. A. Lancaster, who is a Kentuckian; State Secretary A. M. Oehmen, State Treasurer M. M. McCormack and Chairman Thomas Johnson, John Keegan, Jacob Melers, M. J. McKee, Dr. M. McInerney, Neil O'Gara, James Carney, P. H. Slowsky, James Laffey, Thomas Gilmore, James Donnelly, P. A. McGovern, Bernard Rogers and George Ehemann. Forming in line and following the drum corps, a procession nearly three squares long wended its way to the Duncan House, where headquarters had been established. The Knights from Louisville presented a splendid military appearance, being greeted with cheers and shouts of "Here comes old Kentucky," and it goes without saying that they carried off the honors.

Tuesday morning, with the Papal colors and Stars and Stripes flying, the Knights from Kentucky had the post of honor in the short parade arranged for the Supreme officers, delegates, visitors and three local branches that preceded the Pontifical high mass at the pro-cathedral. The beautiful edifice was thronged when Archbishop Glennon, Bishop Byrne, the large number of assisting clergy and many altar boys entered and proceeded up the center aisle to the altar, from where Bishop Byrne expressed his great pleasure over the presence of His Grace Archbishop Glennon, the Supreme Spiritual Director, and extended a most cordial welcome to the Catholic Knights of America. In eloquent but impressive words Bishop Byrne told of the call of the founder of the order, James J. McLoughlin, upon Bishop Feehan and the inspiration received from him. The Catholic Knights of America, he said, had had their ups and downs and serious experiences, but they still flourish with thousands of members. Bishop Byrne then dwelt upon the work of the order, the payment of over $16,000,000 for the widows and orphans, the vast good done, the sorrows alleviated and the sunshine and happiness it had brought into the homes of the bereaved. He approved membership in the C. K. of A. not only as a sound business investment, but as a most worthy charity. In concluding the Bishop said it was an aid to Christian and Catholic spiritual life, to belong to such an organization, but members must practice the corporal as well as spiritual works of mercy.

After the gospel Archbishop Glennon expressed the pleasure it gave him to convey to the Catholic Knights of America the message from Cardinal Merry del Val, that the Holy Father confers his apostolic benediction upon the convention and all members of the Catholic Knights of America, a privilege which he appreciated. Archbishop Glennon then declared that the organization has been reformed and readjusted and has taken its place as a solvent and safe Catholic insurance society. The Knights had placed themselves on record and may now rightfully appeal for new members, who should be glad to share its blessings and responsibilities. Now that their affairs were conducted according to the best business principles, he was anxious to see the work so well begun continued. In his peroration Archbishop Glennon dwelt eloquently upon the higher and truer interests, what the title Catholic Knights suggested, paying beautiful tribute to the Southern and the Slaves of Charity. The past was a precious heritage, and with no boundary, no barrier, the Knights must first of all be the good citizens of America. It was their duty to be in the vanguard of the world's battle and advancement, standing for the Christian home and exhibiting Christian virtues.

Tuesday afternoon the Supreme officers, delegates and visiting Knights journeyed to the country, where prayers were recited and the grave of James McLoughlin was hidden from view beneath floral offerings.

The memorial address at the cemetery was delivered by Thomas A. Slowsky, of Nashville, whose eloquent tribute to the founder of Catholic Knighthood brought tears to the eyes of all who heard him. It was a happy and hungry crowd of Knights that sat around the banquet table on Tuesday night. Hon. M. T. Bryan acted as the toastmaster, and after a blessing had been invoked on the feast by Rev. Father Gleason all fell to with a will. After the physical man had been satisfied Toastmaster Bryan read a telegram from Bishop Farrelly, of Cleveland, who sent his congratulations and regretted his inability to attend. Bishop Farrelly is a native of Tennessee and formerly lived in Nashville.

Olliver J. Timothy, of Nashville, responded to the toast, "Our Guests." He had all welcome to Tennessee and to Nashville, the cradle of the Catholic Knights of America. He spoke of the obedience of the Knights to the laws of the church, the pleasure that he felt at seeing so many members of the order present, and said to him it was a renewal of his boyhood days in his native parish in Ireland. Dr. Felix Gaudin, of New Orleans, Supreme President of the order, responded to the address of welcome and paid tribute to the Uniform Rank, which he declared had made it showing that was a most agreeable surprise to all. He closed with a brief account of what the order had done, was doing and what it expected to do. He appealed to all to wield their influence to build up the order. Supreme Trustee Michael Quinn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., responded briefly when called upon and said he believed a new era was dawning for the order. He urged the older members attend meetings regularly and to induce their sons to become members. Rev. Father P. J. Gleason, of Nashville, spoke of the work of the Knights in Nashville. Hubert F. Croghan, of Providence, R. I., responded to "Our Young Men." "The Apostolate of Italy" was the theme of the discourse of Anthony Matre, of St. Louis. Joseph Berning, of Cincinnati, toasted the "Ladies." Gen. Joseph P. McGinn, of Louisville, represented the military branch of the order. He made an appeal for increase in membership of the military branch, and stated that he was proud to be the associate of Mr. McLoughlin.

The lady visitors were shown points of interest in and around the Tennessee capital on Wednesday. A trip to the Hermitage, the home of President Andrew Jackson, was a feature of the entertainment on Thursday. In the evening visiting knights and ladies were tendered a reception by Nashville Council, Knights of Columbus. The ladies devoted yesterday to sight-seeing.

HEROIC PRIEST

Scales Dizzy Height to Minister to Dying Man.

The funeral of Martin Wigginton, who died at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital Saturday night, took place from the residence of his father, C. J. Wigginton, 1246 South Sixth street, on Monday. The remains were taken to Stillington, Ky., for interment. Mr. Wigginton died as the result of injuries received in an accident at the Sunny Brook distillery, Twenty-eighth and Broadway, last Friday.

The young man was a structural iron-worker and was employed in anchoring a steel beam at a height of 100 feet. He lost his balance and fell a distance of thirty-two feet, alighting on a concrete floor. His injuries were seen to be of a serious nature. A doctor and a priest were hurriedly summoned. The Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo was one of the first men to reach the scene. He did not wait for the injured man to be brought down, but mounted two rickety ladders that had been hurriedly spliced together. Up, up, he went, to a height of sixty feet, where he found the young man unconscious and in a dying condition. As he showed no signs of consciousness Father Raffo gave him conditional absolution and administered the sacrament of extreme unction.

Hundreds had assembled on the ground below and watched the priest as he scaled the perilous ladder, scaling on a concrete floor. Father Raffo finished the administration of the sacraments. By that time the members of the No. 4 Hook and Ladder Company had erected firmer ladders and Father Raffo descended in safety.

The injured man was wrapped in a blanket and lowered by ropes to the ground, where the ambulance was waiting. He was quickly removed to Sts. Mary's and Elizabeth's Hospital. Everything possible was done for him, but death came Saturday night. The deceased was regarded as a skilled structural ironworker and was well liked by all who knew him.

PRIEST GIVES BOYS STARS.

Rev. Samuel Kavanagh, pastor of St. Peter's church and a Director in the new bank at Libertytown, Md., last week presented each of his fifteen altar boys with a sum of money and went with them to the bank, where they deposited it. The gifts were starters for savings accounts. Parents would do well to follow the example of Father Kavanagh with their boys.

THREE COMETS IN "AMONG THE STARS."

DELAYED

Temporarily Is the General Election by King Edward's Death.

United Irish Party Expects Home Rule Ere Long.

Tories Are Out of Funds and Liquor Men Are Sore.

KINDLY FEELING TOWARD KING

The sudden death of King Edward has changed the entire British political situation. Cabinet Ministers, many of whom were enjoying brief vacations on the Continent, hurried home on the announcement of the King's death. The fight over the veto power of the Lords necessarily has been postponed. The new King, George V., is credited with Tory tendencies, but his relations with the Liberal politicians always have been cordial and his recent conferences friendly; still he can not have the diplomatic experience and wide political insight of his father. The new King's sense of responsibility is sure to prevent any rupture with the present Government, though consciousness of his inexperience may add to the fighting attitude of the Tories over the veto.

In Ireland the belief in the late King's friendliness to home rule causes a more sympathetic feeling than for any other English monarch since the conquest. But the death of Edward VII. made no break in the activities of the various parties. The organization for the contingency of the general election goes on, and both sides already have perfected their plans. The Liberals have candidates for almost every seat, even those practically hopeless. The Tories are less prepared, owing to the depletion of their funds and the realization that Lancashire, Yorkshire, Scotland and Wales will not tolerate any protectionist candidate.

Hon. T. P. O'Connor declares that the Irish party will be returned stronger than today, because several seats that were lost to the party at the last election will be won back at the coming campaign. Mid-Tyrone was lost in a three-cornered fight—that is to say by two Nationalist candidates running and a Tory slipping in between the two. That mistake will not be repeated and the seat will be reconquered. The Nationalists also hope to win South Dublin. The seat was lost last time, because a snow storm kept many of the poorer classes from the polls.

There will be no compromise between the Liberals and the Tories on the veto resolutions. One was proposed on these lines: The Lords were to accept the destruction of their right to have a veto on the budget, and that in turn the Liberals should consent to drop the resolution which destroys the veto on legislation. The Liberal Government would not consider such a proposal at all. It would bring into revolt the entire Irish party, which regards the destruction of the legislative veto as much more important than the destruction of the financial veto, for it is the legislative veto that stands in the way of home rule.

The passage of the budget was another disaster to the Tories, because it fixes big and burdensome taxes on the liquor interests, and from those interests the Tories always received the bulk of their campaign fund. The liquor men will not put up money for the Tories, and without a big campaign fund the party is hopeless. On the other hand the Irish party is tolerably well supplied with money. The Irish in the United States have sent some and more has been sent from New Brunswick and Australia, while the Irish residing in England have raised $25,000 for the cause, the greatest amount they ever contributed.

Home rule seems delayed temporarily, but those well informed declare that the delay will be very brief. A period of mourning will follow King Edward's funeral, but it is the universal belief that a general election will take place before midsummer.

AMONG THE STARS

All Is in Readiness for Mackin's New Comet.

Everything is in readiness for the appearance of Aulyn Kanston's musical comet, "Among the Stars," at Micauley's Theater on the nights of May 18, 19 and 20 and at the matinee on Saturday afternoon, May 21. An interesting feature in connection with the musical comet is that it will make its appearance on the same night as Halley's comet. Wednesday, May 18, Mackin Council, under whose auspices the opera is to be given, will furnish talent that will shine in this production, and the many friends of the organization will no doubt be on hand to witness the total eclipse of all other affairs of the kind by Mackin's stars.

Those taking the leading parts are Mrs. Esther Whedon Slater, Miss Abby Chester and Miss Lena Long and Messrs. Aulyn Kanston, Thomas D. Clines, Louis J. Kieffer, Patrick King, Charles Parsons and Carl Zang. In the chorus will be forty-two young people, twenty-one of the prettiest girls in Louisville and as many more stalwart young men.

The opera is in two parts. The first act deals with the last rehearsal; the second with the finished performance of a drama. The plot is well connected and the musical numbers are brilliant and catchy. The costumes will be a dream of artistic color.

Mackin Council is one of the foremost societies of young men in Louisville. Last month it surprised its club house to a bazaar for St. Cecilia's church. Mackin's friends never invite their friends to help celebrate unless they have something good to offer. "Among the Stars" is a good offering.

DOMINICAN NUNS

Celebrated Their Twenty-fifth Anniversary in Boston Saturday.

Sister Alexia, formerly Miss Bridgie O'Sullivan, and Sister Mary Pius, formerly Miss Katie Kennedy, and both formerly of this city, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of entering the Dominican order last Saturday. The celebration was held in Boston, Mass., where the nuns are engaged in teaching school. High mass was the feature of the celebration, and the music of the mass was sung by former pupils of the nuns. Both jubilarians received many handsome presents from friends at home and admirers in Boston.

Sister Alexia is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy O'Sullivan, of Seventh and St. Catherine streets. Sister Mary Pius is a sister of Miss Fannie Kennedy, County President of the A. O. U. Before entering the convent Misses Kennedy and O'Sullivan were members of St. Louis Bertrand's congregation.

J. J. CAFFEY ELECTED.

The Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society met in St. Francis Hall Monday night. Seventeen conferences were represented. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin and other clergymen were present. J. J. Caffrey was elected President of the Particular Council and was empowered to select his subordinate officers. Mr. Caffrey is a progressive business man and a thorough Catholic. Under his guidance and with the spiritual guidance of Bishop O'Donoghue and the clergy, the St. Vincent de Paul Society is bound to flourish.

CHAPEL CAR

Approved by Pope and Gold Medal Bestowed Upon Rev. Dr. Kelley.

Apostolic Delegate to Philippines May Soon Come to Washington.

Names Submitted For Vacant American Sees to Be Guarded.

BUDGET OF GOSSIP FROM ROME

The Rev. Dr. Kelley, President of the Catholic Church extension Society of the United States, and Comendator Ambrose Petry, of the Executive Board of the same society, had a lengthy audience with Pope Plus X. on last Saturday.

The Pope showed that he has followed with the deepest interest the great work done by the society in the United States and Canada during the last four and a half years. He said that Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, has kept him informed on the subject; that Monsignor Agins, the Apostolic Delegate to the Philippines, had also spoken most highly of it, and that Monsignor Sharetti, Apostolic Delegate to Canada, has taken a profound sympathetic interest in the work.

The Holy Father dwelt especially upon what the Church Extension Society has done for the church in the Philippines during the present trying situation there. In an autograph letter of considerable length the Pope blessed and encouraged the society to continue to enlarge its work. This letter, which will not be published until Dr. Kelley submits a report to the Academy of appeal to the Archbishops, Bishops, priests and laity in the United States.

As a mark of special appreciation for the ministry work of the society, he presented Dr. Kelley with a valuable gold medal, marking his approval of the work of the chapel car in America, conferring a like honor on Comendator Petry.

Monsignor Agins today left Naples for Manila. When he arrives he will solemnly promulgate the decrees of the Council of Manila, which he has approved during his stay in Rome. He will not remain for more than a year longer in the Philippines. It is believed by some that his future destination will be Washington.

Monsignor Sharetti has had a long private audience with the Holy Father, and it is not improbable that he may not return to Canada. The Rev. William A. Murphy, of the diocese of Chicago, has just successfully passed the examination for the doctorate of divinity at the University of the Propaganda.

The Consistorial Congregation has issued a decree insisting upon absolute secrecy regarding the names submitted from America for vacant sees. Any priest violating this rule will be rendered incapable of voting in the future. Bishops are also bound to secrecy.

This step is taken to save candidates who are not named from the embarrassment that obviously follows.

MORE ORANGE BIGOTRY.

The bigots of Belfast University have not yet done with scholastic philosophy. Its principal opponent, Right Hon. Thomas Slingsby, having been elected Chairman of Convocation, proposed and carried a resolution against a separate lectureship or professorship in scholastic philosophy, or other recognition of denominationalism in the statutes of the university. The resolution does not bind the Senate, which has already sanctioned the scholastic course.

BUFFALO CHOSEN.

The urgent official invitation by the Mayor and City Council of Buffalo, the Chamber of Commerce, the Right Rev. Bishop Colton and leading citizens, that the United Irish League of America hold its approaching national convention in that city, has been accepted by National President Michael Hyatt and his fellow officers. The convention is called for September 27 and 28, when John Redmond, Chairman of the Irish party, and T. P. O'Connor and Joseph Devlin will represent Nationalist Ireland. A significance will attach to this convention from the fact that it was in Buffalo that the first Land League convention met in 1881.

EUROPE'S GRIEF

Nearly Every Monarch United to Edward of England.

By the death of King Edward, of England, nearly every court of Europe is grieving, not merely because etiquette demands it, but because Edward was a kinsman by blood or marriage. Following are the connections of the late King with other royal houses:

Denmark—Edward's Queen, Alexandra, was the oldest daughter of Christian IX, the late King of Denmark. Frederick VIII, the present King, was Edward's brother-in-law.

Germany—Kaiser Wilhelm II. is the son of Edward's eldest sister and was the dead King's nephew. Russia—Czar Nicholas II. is the son of Queen Alexandra's sister Marie and the husband of the daughter of Edward's sister, Alice.

Spain—King Alfonso XIII. is the husband of Victoria Ens, the daughter of Edward's sister, Beatrice. Greece—King George I. is a brother of Queen Alexandra.

Norway—King Haakon VII. is a son of Frederick VIII. of Denmark, brother of Queen Alexandra, and is married to his cousin, Maud, King Edward's daughter.

Sweden—King Oscar II.'s son is married to Margareta of Connaught, daughter of the King's brother, the Duke of Connaught.

Belgium—King Leopold is a nephew of the late Leopold II., who was an uncle of Victoria, King Edward's mother.

Holland—Queen Wilhelmina is related through King George III. Minor European rulers related to the late King by ties of blood or marriage are:

Saxe-Coburg and Gotha—Duke Leopold Charles Edward is a son of Edward's brother, Duke of Alhar.

Waldeck—Princess Helene, sister of Duke Frederick, is the wife of Duke Leopold of Albany and Saxe-Coburg.

Wurttemberg—King William II. is related through the late Princess Mary, Duchess of Teck, cousin of Queen Victoria and mother of the new Queen of England.

PRAISES

For Catholic Institutions by Indiana School Officials.

Prof. Kendall, Superintendent of Schools of Indianapolis, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Aley, both non-Catholics, are loud in their praises of the Catholic educational institutions conducted by the Franciscans at Oldenburg, Ind. The visit of the officials was with a view of recommending to the State Board of Education that the Academy of the Sacred Heart at Oldenburg be commissioned as a high school and that its certificates be recognized under the State Normal system.

Upon his return Prof. Kendall said: "I may say that I was surprised and pleased beyond expression with what we found at the academy at Oldenburg. The conditions are ideal in the institution. The surroundings are beautiful and the discipline of the academy is the highest commendation for their work. There are 150 girls in the school."

Superintendent Aley said that the day he spent inspecting the educational affairs of the Franciscans at Oldenburg was the most interesting day he has ever passed. The monastery in Franklin county is the center of a large Catholic population. It was founded in 1848, and it is said more than $1,000,000 of property has been built and acquired by the monks, who maintain the institution themselves.

SUPERIOR GENERAL HERE.

The Rev. Brother John Chrysostom, of Bruges, Belgium, Superior General of the Xaverian Brothers, who came to the United States on a tour of inspection of the houses of the order, arrived in Louisville Tuesday and spent several days here. While in this city Brother Chrysostom was the guest of the Brothers at St. Xavier's College. He was accompanied to Louisville by the Rev. Brother Edward, of Manchester, England, and the Rev. Brother Isidore, of Baltimore. Superior General of the Xaverians in the United States. The visitors were joined here by the Rev. Brother Ambrose, of St. Mary's Industrial School, Baltimore, who was returning from London, Ky., where his venerable father is at the point of death. Brother Chrysostom was well pleased with the conditions prevailing at St. Xavier's College and the trip last year. Mr. and Mrs. St. Lawrence Institute. Before leaving he praised the work so successfully carried on by Rev. Brothers James and Plus.

Busy Business Sessions Will Close With Election Today.

HEARD ACTUARY'S FIGURES

Every available inch of room in the Senate chamber of the State Capitol at Nashville was occupied when the national convention of the Catholic Knights of America was opened at noon on Tuesday by State Secretary Oehlman, who introduced Gov. Patterson amid tumultuous applause. The Governor said he felt the compliment paid him and was flattered by the reception accorded him. Gov. Patterson extended a most cordial welcome to all to the Capitol and the Volunteer State, but especially so to His Grace Archbishop Glennon, whose reputation for broad-mindedness and patriotism had preceded him to Tennessee.

After referring to the illustrious of Andrew Jackson and the hut of Andrew Johnson, who rose from the plain people to the Presidency of this great country; to the tomb of young Sam Davis and of President Polk, he called attention to Tennessee's schools, hospitals, colleges, commerce and everything that stands for advancement, and his royal welcome to a royal State evoked rounds of applause. Next Mr. M. Wells, representing the Mayor, welcomed the Catholic Knights, to whom all doors were open.

Hon. Daniel M. Burke, one of the two living founders of the order, representing the Nashville branches, in eloquent and touching words gave the history of the society, that compiles in every respect with the requirements of the church, recounting its struggles and great deeds to the present.

Supreme President Gaudin responded to the addresses of welcome, declaring the convention was being held in the home of its friends. Feelingly he acknowledged the kind expressions and generous treatment with which they were received, but lacked for words that would express his feelings of gratitude. Rev. Joseph Roising, of Nebraska, and James J. McLoughlin, of New Orleans, also responded, saying they would show their gratitude by renewing their pledge, thus remaining true Knights, true Catholics and true Americans.

Following the appointment of the Credentials Committee and announcement of the program and order of business the convention adjourned till Wednesday morning, when the real work was begun.

On Wednesday morning the Supreme convention was opened with prayer by the Rev. Father Hillebrand, of Oregon. Following this came the reading of congratulatory letters and telegrams from Cardinal Gibbons, Monsignor Feidort, the Apostolic Delegate, and thirty-five other Archbishops and Bishops, the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue being one of the number. Reports of the Supreme officers were then submitted, after which the convention went into a lengthy executive session. The main feature of discussion was the proposal to increase the per capita tax, but the proposal was rejected. This closed the business for Wednesday.

Thursday was given over to hearing from Actuary Landis, one of the best known actuaries in the United States, and who has facts and figures on insurance at his finger ends. Friday was the real business day of the convention, and much time was spent in reading and discussing recommendations and reports of committees. Today will be spent in electing officers and winding up unfinished business. All reports show that the order is sound financially and increasing numerically. Next week the Kentucky Irish American will give a detailed report of the proceedings on Friday and Saturday.

UNWORTHY EDITOR SENTENCED.

The editor of Simplicissimus, a Gorman comic paper, has been arraigned in court for publishing a grossly insulting caricature of the Catholic Bishop of Rotterdam. The Court sentenced the editor to two months in prison. The public prosecutor of the Criminal Court at Stuttgart affirmed the insult, the gravest that could be heaped at one commissioned to watch over the purity of morals. Protestantism, he added, had been the first to report the matter to him and to demand prosecution.

FOR THE HOME GOING.

Judge and Mrs. Matt O'Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Scanlon and Miss Kate Lyons are among the Louisville people who will visit Ireland during the present season. Judge O'Doherty and his wife made the trip last year. Mr. and Mrs. Scanlon have visited Ireland several times, and Miss Kate Lyons spent several months in the "Green Isle" a few years ago.

POPULAR CHORD

Struck by Cecilian Choral Club in Effort to Please.

The Cecilian Choral Club struck a popular chord when it decided two years ago to revive some of the old comic opera successes. This form of entertainment seems to appeal to the theater-going public, but the composers of today fall of the mark set by the old, famous masters. Plays like the "Mikado," "El Capitán" and "The Pirates of Penzance" have withstood the ravishes of time and are still favorites with the lovers of music, while the present-day comic opera success is forgotten the next day.

The Choral Club will be remembered for its good work in the first two above mentioned operas and for this season's play have selected "The Pirates of Penzance." The chorus has been considerably augmented, numbering ninety voices, in order to bring out in full volume the stirring ensembles and finales.

Miss Louise Forst, who has been associated with many Catholic musical entertainments, will sing the leading soprano role, and her rich and beautiful voice will surely captivate her audience in the splendid numbers which she will render. As Ruth, the practical "maid-of-all-work," Miss Imelda Shea will appear, and as it is a part requiring considerable acting those who have seen Miss Shea in the previous productions will attest that the role is in most capable hands. Also her sweet contralto voice will be heard in several solos.

Mr. John J. Flynn is cast for the principal male part, Major-Gen. Stanley, of the British army, which affords him opportunities galore for his comedy propensities. Mr. Flynn is no stranger before the amateur footlights, and whether it be recitation, song or play, he can be depended upon always for a delightful interpretation. Others in the cast are Misses Gertrude Simpson, Mae Kalaher, Alice Gilbert and Messrs. Dave Maloney, Dennis Ryan, James P. Roche and William Imorde.

Prof. Clement A. Stapleford is directing the rehearsals and is very much gratified with the work of both chorus and principals, and promises a production equal to a professional one, both vocally and dramatically. Thomas S. Evans has charge of the stage work and is especially proud of the showing of the chorus of policemen and pirates. Two performances will be given at Macaulay's Theater on the evenings of May 31 and June 1.

ALUMNI OFFICERS

Chosen by Former Pupils of St. Xavier's College.

The Alumni Association of St. Xavier's College met in the college hall last Friday night and elected the following officers for the next twelve months: President, Joseph L. Lounban; Vice President, William Birkel; Secretary, Eugene McCarthy; Treasurer, William G. Hume; Spiritual Director, John T. Hill.

It was decided to have the annual alumni banquet on or about June 28, and the following committee was appointed to arrange the details: J. P. Hanley, W. P. McDonald, Eugene Conney, E. Tilden Parsons and the Rev. Brother James, Director of the college. The Alumni Association will meet again on Friday night, May 27, to ratify the report of the committee.

HOME FOR THE SUMMER.

Mrs. Ben Johnson, wife of Congressman Ben Johnson, of Bardonia, Ind., tomorrow will attend the golden jubilee celebration of St. Joseph's Benevolent Society and the State convention of the big German Catholic Staats Verband. Societies from Indianapolis and many other cities will participate in the parade, and the stores and houses along the line of March will be especially decorated for the occasion.

BIG CATHOLIC DAY.

Fully 10,000 visitors are expected in Richmond, Ind., tomorrow to attend the golden jubilee celebration of St. Joseph's Benevolent Society and the State convention of the big German Catholic Staats Verband. Societies from Indianapolis and many other cities will participate in the parade, and the stores and houses along the line of March will be especially decorated for the occasion.

BISHOP'S JUBILEE.

Arrangements are almost perfected for the celebration of the episcopal jubilee of the Right Rev. Camillus P. Mearns, Bishop of Cotington, the date for which has been set for Wednesday, June 29. The celebration will be held in St. Mary's Cathedral, which will be completed for the event.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1910.

EXAMPLE FOR YOUNG.

When God gave us his ten commandments the first three related to the respect to be shown the Deity, but the fourth commandment is: "Honor thy father and thy mother." Apropos of this an Eastern Catholic exchange says of a recent event:

"At the consecration of Bishop Fallon one incident is related which easily becomes the most affecting of the entire imposing ceremony. The Bishop-to-be went to the station on Saturday evening to meet his family. As the train came in he broke away from the grasp of clergymen with whom he was talking and hurried across the platform where he had caught a glimpse of his aged parents. Then we are told he clasped the little mother in his great strong arms and tenderly kissed her. 'Mother' was all he could say as he pressed her tenderly.

"What joy must have welled up in the little mother's heart at that supreme moment. There in the arms of a successor of the apostles, who can read the thoughts that passed through the brain, who can imagine the feeling in her heart?

"Boys, your mothers have done and are doing as much for you as has Bishop Fallon's mother for him. What returns are you making? Do you follow her advice, or are you of the smart class that think they know more than the 'old woman'?

No one not a mother can imagine the heartbreaks, the worry of the good mother. Her boys are ever before her; her prayers are being constantly offered for their good. She may appear harsh at times. But who can blame her? Her nerves are strained to the utmost tension. Really, she has little peace of mind, for on all sides are temptations which only a boy of the most sturdy character can throw off. It is the province of youth to be careless; but the boy who does not honor his mother is not careless; he is wicked."

PARLIAMENT IS EXPENSIVE.

One often hears even from men of Irish descent the question: "Why are the Irish in America continually hesitated to contribute money toward the support of the Irish members in Parliament?"

In the first place the members of the British Parliament get no pay. It costs to live in London as it does in any metropolitan city. Besides many of the Irish members are making sacrifices to serve their constituents and their country. Many are lawyers, doctors and merchants whose business wanes while they are attending to affairs of State. Others have no other means of support than that afforded them by their fellow countrymen exiled in America or Australia.

Some returned sojourners in the Emerald Isle scoffingly tell you that the game is not worth the candle; that the climate of Ireland is vile; that the land is unproductive. So? If Ireland was not worth keeping, why has Great Britain spent millions in money and men in keeping her in thralldom? Yet the Irish members are not the only ones who suffer from drains in Parliament. In England, Scotland and Wales it costs money to be a member or even to fight a constituency. Rider Haggard, the English journalist and novelist, was importuned to stand for Parliament, but declined on the ground that to fight a county constituency cost $10,000, but he admitted that boroughs might be cheaper. Then he figured that in the event of election it would cost him, aside from his living expenses, $2,500 a year to keep his political fences in repair.

How serious the drain may become is shown by the fact that a few years ago it was publicly stated that a Conservative member had undertaken if elected to find $15,000 to $20,000 a year to be disbursed in the constituency. A Scotch member, who retired at the last election, confessed that his own contributions apart from election expenses had cost him $6,000 a year. He could stand the drain no longer, and yet Scotch constituencies are reckoned cheap.

The object of Catholic Federation in the United States is to combine with the church in showing that it is one. Its efforts will help to arouse loyalty to the Catholic faith and purposes. It serves to unite all against the political, industrial and social evils that environ the nation. Federation, too, protests against anything even suggestive of indecency. It will oppose evil and unscrupulous men in private and in public life.

The United States and many other countries are generously aiding the unfortunate earthquake sufferers in Costa Rica. Once again the lesson is taught that disaster, like a touch of nature, makes the whole world kin.

Tomorrow will be Whit-Sunday or Pentecost, a day the church celebrates in commemoration of the descent of the Holy Ghost upon the apostles and disciples. Today is a day of fast and abstinence.

CHURCH ALONE

One Stately Edifice Did Not Yield to Quake.

More than 1,000 dead bodies have been removed from the ruins of Cartago, Costa Rica, the Central American city that was devastated by an earthquake last week. Chimes of the historic Church del Carmen, the heltry of which withstood the earthquake shock, continues to toll a requiem for the dead. Each day the searchers reveal new bodies, and the streets seem filled with continuous funeral processions. Long trenches are being dug for the interment of the unfortunates, and in many cases whole families have been hurled together. The Church of del Carmen is the only building in the city left intact.

Most of the survivors of the earthquake are now at San Jose, and medicines and food supplies are being dispensed from American warships. It augurs well for the generosity of our nation that her ships and sailors were first to give aid to their unfortunate brethren in the sister republic.

Costa Rica is ignoring the possibility of bankrupting her national treasury, and is pouring out all available public funds to feed and clothe the hungry and starving survivors. Men of wealth throughout the little republic have opened their purses to their unfortunate fellow countrymen, and are doing everything possible to relieve the intense suffering which exists among the homeless, the wounded and dying.

QUESTION RAISED

Because Dying King Declined to Receive Anglican Bishops.

Did Edward VII., King of England, die a Catholic? is a question that is agitating the anti-Catholics of England. Both Associated Press dispatches and the advices of special correspondents announce that a sensational report that King Edward had refused to see the Archbishop of Canterbury when he was dying. But the Archbishop denies it by saying the King did not request to see him.

But the press dispatches insist that the Archbishop of Canterbury called four times at the palace of Friday last, while the Bishop of Ripon, Clerk of the Closet of the King, called twice. Neither entered the room. The King was not too ill to see them. The same dispatches say he died sitting in a chair, and that he was fully conscious to the end. The probability is that Edward died without benefit of clergy. The reason for the rumor that he died a Catholic is founded on the well authenticated story that at the time King Edward was operated on for appendicitis, the only minister admitted to the sick chamber was the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, S. J., a brother of the late Archbishop of Westminster.

COLLECTION TOMORROW.

Tomorrow the annual collection for the Diocesan Seminary will be taken up in all the churches at each mass. As this is the first appeal of Bishop O'Donoghue, and the cause so good and worthy, it is to be hoped that all will come prepared to contribute liberally. The needs and purpose of the offering are too well understood to need further explanation than that they are for the glory of God and the maintenance of the priesthood.

LEAGUE WITH INFIDELS.

There is proof positive that the Methodists in Rome are in league with the infidels in the fight against the Catholic church. "It is well to know," says Il Resto del Carlino, weekly of Lecco, "that L'Evangelista, the Methodist organ in Rome, is notoriously in alliance with L'Asino. Sufficient proof of this is found in one of the latest numbers of Podrecca's filthy sheet, in which there is a statement from L'Evangelista to the effect that it is in accord with L'Asino and fully approves of its methods." Podrecca's coarse cartoons of things the most sacred and his violations of public decency have repeatedly brought him before the courts.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 4 of St. Paul initiated a large class last week, and is rapidly increasing its membership.

An important meeting of Division 3 will take place Monday night. All who possibly can should be present.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night,
when all will be glad to welcome Secretary Tom Lawler, who has been ill.

Hibernians took part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of a Celtic cross on St. Vincent's church at St. Paul, Minn.

The Ancient Order will organize a division this month at Montrose, South Dakota. Many have signified their intention of joining.

At a special county convention at Norwalk, Conn., fifty delegates assembled and decided to send the County President to Portland.

The Ancient Order in Central New York is rendering substantial aid to the proposed St. John's Infant Home in Utica, for the care of orphan girls.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will outline its programme for the Phoenix Hill outing at the meeting next Wednesday night. The officers expect a large attendance.

Tickets for the picnic of Division 4 and the Ladies' Auxiliary are selling rapidly. President John Hennessy wants a crowd at Phoenix Hill that will break all records.

Last Sunday a number of Boston divisions attended a special mass at St. Peter and Paul church and received holy communion. There was a sermon by the Right Rev. G. J.
Patterson.

Division 2 meets next Friday night, and the session promises to be interesting. President Ford and Secretary Meehan have several important matters for consideration, and they ask all members to attend.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Covington and Newport received holy communion Sunday morning at St. Patrick's church. A special musical programme was arranged for the occasion and Rev. Father Cusack preached an eloquent sermon.

NEXT JUNE

Pope Pius X. Will Celebrate Seventy-fifth Birthday.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Pope Pius X. will be celebrated throughout the Catholic world on June 2. Coming from an humble peasant family, Giuseppe Sarto by name, he gradually rose in gradations of office in the church to the position of Pontiff. He is one of nine children, eight of them living to witness their brother's elevation seven years ago.

Previous to his election to the Papacy by the College of Cardinals August 4, 1903, after a session of five days, he was Patriarch of Venice. In origin he was in several respects the opposite of his predecessor, Leo XIII., who was of aristocratic birth and a scholar. Pius X. is said to be familiar with no language outside his own, except slightly with French and German.

ERECTED 400 CHAPELS.

Rev. Dr. Kelley, in the last number of the Extension magazine, announces that the American Society since the time of its institution has been instrumental in starting an average of two chapels a week, or a total of over 400.

ACTING CHIEF.

sleuth, is acting Chief of detectives in the absence of Capt. John P.
Carney, who is attending the convention of Police Chiefs in Birmingham. Capt. Warren wears his honors

San Francisco last week and urged that they organize unions in every possible field of industry.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Miss Agnes Donag-hue, one of the most popular young ladies in New Albany, took place from Holy Trinity church on Monday morning. The deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
John Donaghue.

The funeral of James D. Pirtle, who died at his home, 1126 Oldham street, took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church on Sunday afternoon. The deceased, whose death is mourned by many, was thirty years old and was an efficient member of the Louisville Fire department.

The funeral of Mrs. Louisa Queen, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Hamilton, 4025 West Broadway, on Saturday night, took place from Holy Cross church on Monday afternoon and was largely attended. The deceased was seventy years old and death was due to senility. Five sons and two daughters survive. They are Harry D., Roger S., Leo O., William D. and Joseph Queen, Mrs. W. R. Gregg and Mrs. E. A. Hamilton. Many friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved children.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Anything that is draped is fashionable.

Deep blue that is almost black is a much favored color for gowns and hats.

Sleeves of the new models of blouses and dresses show fullness at the elbow.

For evening wear there is a return of colored Irish lace, dyed to match the gown.

Cypress green, pewter gray and a delicate fawn shade are soft tints that are popular.

White serge suits have black or green collars and cuffs. Green is also used on dark blue.

The new veils are novel and conspicuous, but not becoming. Colored lace veils are still popular.

White butcher's linen collar and cuff coat sets, the edges scalloped with white or color, are worn on silk and wool suits alike.

The lace flounce imparts the decorative note as a skirt trimming upon many new evening gowns. The flounce is usually headed by a wide band of embroidery.

Gold colored straw trimmed with black is a combination of many of the most attractive models for summer. Some of the best hat decorations are gold and silver.

Practical little striped gingham and checked folks of two to four inches wide are popular.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

Colorado Springs Council maintains a fund to purchase books for the scholars of the parochial school there.

Tomorrow the Knights at Columbus, Ind., will initiate a large class, for which an elaborate programme has been arranged.

Thus far 125 applications have been received for the fourth degree, which will be conferred in Indianapolis on Memorial day, May 30.

In the last year New York State has made a net gain of three councils and 996 members. The total membership is 41,692.

Quebec Knights are making extensive plans for the entertainment of the national convention and a host of visitors next August.

Rev. John H. Riley, of Shelbyville, preached an eloquent and patriotic sermon at the mass for the Knights last Sunday in the Church of the Good Shepherd at Frankfort.

The Knights of Rockford, Ill., had a formal opening of their new club house on Tuesday in honor of the State convention, which met there.

Bryan F. Mahan, a popular Knight and Mayor of New London, is prominently mentioned as Democratic candidate for Governor of Connecticut.

Connecticut has six cities with Mayors who are members of the order. They are Hartford, New Britain, New London, Williamamie, Meriden and Ansonia.

The latest statistical figures show the order to have 1,425 subordinate councils, with a total membership of 237,013, divided into an insurance membership of 75,635 and an associate membership of 161,378.

UNITED STATES

Now the Fourth Catholic Power in Entire World.

In less than a century, according to the New York Sun, the land of William Penn has become the fourth Catholic power in the world from the point of view of numbers, being surpassed only by France, Austria and Italy, while it surpasses even these countries if we take into consideration the loyalty of the faithful, their generosity and their progressiveness.

The Catholic church in the United States, although remaining Roman, has a thorough American character of enterprise, of expansion and of grandeur, owing to the vastness of its institutions and the splendor of its buildings, which will soon rival in size and artistic beauty historic Cathedrals of the Old World, so that before long to the latter will only remain the superiority coming from centuries of tradition. Thus the balance will be maintained, the history in Europe, the vigor of modern genius in America. New York is today the strongest Catholic city in the world, though Paris may have more people baptized into the church or there may be numerically more in Vienna; but neither Paris nor Vienna, nor Rome itself can boast such a truly devout Catholic population at once so prosperous, intelligent and active.

INDIANA KNIGHTS.

St. George Commandery No. 141, Knights of St. John, of New Albany, will go to Richmond, Ind., tomorrow to attend the convention of the State Council. Many commanderies from Southern Indiana will be in attendance.

GALAXY OF INTELLECT.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Alumni Association of the North American College at Rome was held in Baltimore on Wednesday evening. It brought together many distinguished priests and prelates.

PIRIESTS RETURN.

Rev. W. R. Dunn, O. P., and Rev.
C. P. Christmas, O. P., arrived home Wednesday from Evansville, where they assisted at the Forty Hours' devotions that opened there Sunday.

ENVY.

Envy is one of the meanest of all the passions. It is alike offensive in the sight of God and man. It is not only an unreasonable, but a malignant spirit. It looks with the eye of hatred upon a brother, for no other reason than because he either is, or is supposed to be, a special favorite of providence. If this hateful passion ever rise in your breast, banish it as one of the worst enemies of your happiness, your character and your soul.

CHAMOIS GLOVES.

If they are rinsed in clear water and hung up with the fingers full of water they will dry with the fingers extended, instead of the usual shrunken way. The gloves are easier to get into shape and last longer.

The Hibernians of New London will celebrate the Fourth of July with a parade and field day.

NEW COUNCIL

Knights of Columbus Start
Under Favorable Auspices.

Several hundred Knights from all over the State went to Frankfort last Sunday to assist in inaugurating the new council of the Knights of Columbus. Old and new Knights assembled at Odd Fellows' Hall on Sunday morning and marched to the Church of the Good Shepherd, where high mass was offered up with the Rev. Father Ignatius Conroy, C. P. of Cincinnati, as celebrant. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Father John Riley, of Shelbyville. Special music was rendered by the choir.

The initiation of the new members and the election and installation of officers took place at Odd Fellows' Hall during the afternoon. The ceremonial exercises were carried out by teams from Lexington, Louisville, Toledo and Cincinnati. The officers of the new council are: Grand Knight--John Sower. Deputy Grand Knight--G. S. Hansen.

Chancellor--Charles J. Weltzel. Financial Secretary--H. S. Lutke. Recording Secretary--John J. Canty.

In the evening the members of the new council tendered a banquet to their visiting brethren in the main dining hall of the Capital Hotel. John P. Hanley, now of Louisville, but formerly of Frankfort, was the toastmaster. Among those who responded to toasts were Hon. La Vega Clements, of Owensboro, and John C. Talbot, of Bardonia.

DERBY WINNER

Will Meet Former Rivals
in Clark Handicap Today.

The thirty-sixth annual spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club was inaugurated under most favorable auspices last Tuesday. The weather was ideal, the track fast and the attendance eclipsed that at any former Derby. The free field was partially responsible for the crowd, at the same time it was an incentive to others to enter the grandstand. Thus far the racing has been of a very high class order. The Clark Handicap with the Derby winner and all the starters in that classic event will be the chief feature this afternoon. The feature events next week will be the Colonel stakes on Tuesday, the Bashford minor stakes Thursday and the four-hour handicap on Saturday. The Paris mutual system of betting is proving satisfactory to all concerned. General Manager M. J. Winn and his associates are being commended by all patrons of the sport for giving Louisville high class racing.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Enjoyed Graphic Story of Trip in Foreign Lands.

The members of Trinity Council listened attentively for an hour and a half last Monday night to a splendid lecture on "Traveling in Foreign Countries" by Capt. John McNabb, whose lecture was very interesting and at the same time full of wit and humor. A special interest was manifested when the Captain related the incident in kissing the Blarney stone, which he did at the risk of his life.

Applications were received for membership from John Holden and A. Wiseman. The Sick Committee reported that Joseph Hoehr was improving and that Leo Gunther is still confined to his home. An announcement was made that a matter of much importance would be brought up in the meeting on next Monday night, and the members were urged to attend in a large number.

TURNKEY BUYER DEAD.

General regret was expressed throughout the city when it was learned that Deputy Jailer Louis C. Buyer died on Wednesday afternoon. Death followed an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Buyer was born in Louisville forty-nine years ago and had lived here all his life. He was survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Lillian Buyer. His funeral took place from St. Charles Borromeo church yesterday morning, and was very largely attended. Mr. Buyer had served as Deputy Jailer under Mr. Pfanz for fourteen years.

DELMONT CLUB EXCURSION.

The Delmont Club will give its annual excursion on the elegant five-deck steamer Island Queen on Sunday, May 22. It will be a "comet-light" excursion, when Halley's comet will be at its brightest glow in the western sky and visible to everybody. The demand for tickets is large and the members of Delmont are preparing to entertain their guests in royal style.

FONTAINE FERRY.

With the appearance of real summer weather, local park-goers came into their own at Fontaine Ferry during the week just closing. Many new attractions have been installed at this big family resort, which with the various old and popular features of former years combine to furnish much enjoyment for those who are fond of out-of-door amusement. The park theater, where high-vaudeville is the offering, is starting the new season in fine style. The vaudeville attractions for the coming week are of particular promise, including the following well known acts: Lasky's Six Hoboes, in a merry melange of music and mirth; Cook Sisters Quartette, four pretty singers; Reynolds and Donegan, in a roller-skating novelty; Green and Straight, singers and dancers; the Great Harmonies, comedy acrobats, and the Photograph, showing new motion pictures.

MOTION PICTURES.

The offerings at the Casino, Princess and Columbia next week will be of unusual interest, with a magnificence of production that is unsurpassed by any motion pictures yet exhibited here. There will be several mirth provoking films, and also the latest illustrated songs.

NOTED PRELATE'S DEATH.

Monsignor Barberi, the Vicar Apostolic of Gibraltar, died this week. He was a native of Sienna, Italy, where he was born in 1838. Joining the Benedictines in 1858, he held high office in that order, and while Abbot of Perugia was in-

GLITTERING BLADES

Of Knights of St. John
Will Appear
Here.

The annual convention of the Kentucky Grand Council of the Knights of St. John will meet in Louisville on May 29. More than 1,000 Knights and several hundred ladies are expected to visit Louisville on this occasion. Covington alone will send two battalions for the festivities. It is estimated that the presence of the Knights and their ladies will attract more than 5,000 other visitors to this city.

The visiting Knights are expected to arrive on Saturday, May 28. On Sunday morning they will attend solemn high mass at St. Boniface's church, after which they will hold the business meeting and election of officers in St. Boniface's Hall. In the afternoon the local and visiting Knights will participate in a street parade to Phoenix Hill Park, where a grand reception will be held.

The present Grand officers are President Kohnhorst, of Covington; First Vice President, Clemens Wiegand, of Louisville; Secretary Luke, of Covington; Judge Advocate P. J. Breen, of Louisville; Sergeant-at-Arms Capt. Brinkman, of Louisville. It is the opinion of many Knights that the present officers will be re-elected.

JOINT PICNIC

Chief Topic of Interest at Division 4's Meeting.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., last Monday night. President John H. Hennessy presided and all the officers except Harry Brady were present. Mr. Brady is just recovering from a severe spell of illness. Thomas Dignan and Thomas Callahan were welcomed back after long absences. Stove Toomey was reported very ill.

Stephen J. McElliot, Chairman of the special Entertainment Committee, reported that arrangements for the joint picnic with the Ladies' Auxiliary were progressing admirably. The picnic will be given at Phoenix Hill Park on June 20. Already there is great competition between the members of Division 4 and the Ladies' Auxiliary in selling tickets. Both bodies are determined to make it a success.

William Callaghan and Councilman Michael J. McDermott, delegates to the Jefferson County Catholic Federation, reported progress for that body.

PASSION PLAY

Little Bavarian Village
Will Find Room
for All.

The dress rehearsal, which marks the opening of the Passion Play season in the Bavarian village, Oberammergau, was held on Wednesday. The woodcarvers, sculptors and day laborers of the picturesque Alpine hamlet followed the traditions of their ancestors, who have produced the Passion Play every ten years since 1680, and previous to that irregularly as far back as 1533.

There will be thirty performances this spring and summer, the first next Monday, and the last on September 5. Sixty-three of the villagers have speaking parts in the play, and more than 300 others will appear in the chorus and tableau. The attendance this year promises to break all records. Accommodations are assured, however, for all who will make Oberammergau a stopping place in their vacation itinerary. The theater seats 4,200; there are twelve hotels and every householder in the village is ready to receive guests.

Among the Louisville people who will be fortunate enough to witness the Passion Play this year are Mrs. Lucy O'Connor, her daughter, Miss Stella, and her son, Rev. Frank O'Connor, who will be ordained in Rome this month.

ELECTION AT SYRACUSE.

The electors of the Province of the Immaculate Conception of the Minor Order of Conventuals in the United States will meet at the mother house in Syracuse on Monday, when a Provincial will be chosen. Since the death of Father Louis Miller the position has been acceptably filled by Rev. Father Leo Greulich, of St. Anthony's, this city, who is thought to be the choice for the next term. Very Rev. Dominic Reuter, Superior General of the order, with headquarters in Rome, will preside.

EVENLY MATCHED.

The Portland baseball team will play the strong Evansville club tomorrow afternoon at Portland Park. Thirty-fifth and Rudd, and a large crowd is expected as both teams are evenly matched. The Evansville team not having lost a game this season. Boardman and Overton will be Portland's battery, while Grossman and Grimm will represent Evansville. The Louisville-St. Paul game will be announced by innings by Umpire "Babe" Ryan.

NIGHT WORKERS CELEBRATE.

The ninth anniversary of the institution of early services for night workers in New York was celebrated at St. Andrew's church. The Rev. Father Luke Evers, who originated the service, celebrated the solemn high mass. The music was rendered by an excellent choir of printers and other newspaper men. Not long ago Archbishop Farley encouraged another priest to conduct like services in another district where night workers congregated, and the second service is being held with the same success. Evers attained.
